Sublime Artistry CMS Website Sampler

SublimeSiteCMS: Sublime Artistry’s SublimeSiteCMS websites are based on a content management system that allows our clients to maintain the site themselves (we can provide maintenance services if you do not want to maintain the site yourself). SublimeSiteCMS websites are fully custom and original...and yours to keep even if you decide that the CMS system is not for you and you want to move to a different host. Should you decide to move to a different system but want to use your site designed by Sublime Artistry, we would provide you with your custom-designed template files (these sites are software-based and not html pages that exist on an ftp site, so you may need a developer to help you republish your site).

The SublimeSiteCMS provides much more overall creative freedom when designing a website. It provides increased flexibility for placement of the navigation bar, how many regions appear on a page, the number of columns—and more—rather than utilizing what is standard on a pre-existing template.

Below is a list of a few of our completely custom SublimeSiteCMS designs. Additionally, three SublimeSiteCMS sites were developed for Corporate Express that are no longer active websites because they are now owned by Staples, but those sites can still be viewed on our portfolio on our website if you want to see more examples than what we have listed.

Insta-Site(CMS): These websites are also content management systems, just like SublimeSiteCMS, but the primary difference is they are developed on a pre-existing template. While many things can be graphically added or altered, many things, such as the placement of the navigation bar, cannot.

We do our very best to select the best template to serve your needs and customize the graphics as much as possible, but some things will be limited. Other companies may use the same template you that your site is using (obviously with their own copy and graphics), but you still might see some similarities, which is why we recommend customizing these sites with your own graphics and copy as much as the template will allow. And because these sites are built on pre-existing templates in our system, they are not transferrable to another system for hosting (however, you do own the content of your site.) For these reasons, these sites are typically priced lower than the SublimeSiteCMS and are often a good fit for small or startup companies or websites that only need minimal pages or “basic” functions.

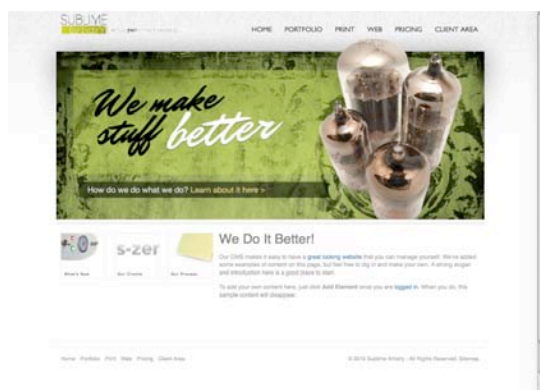

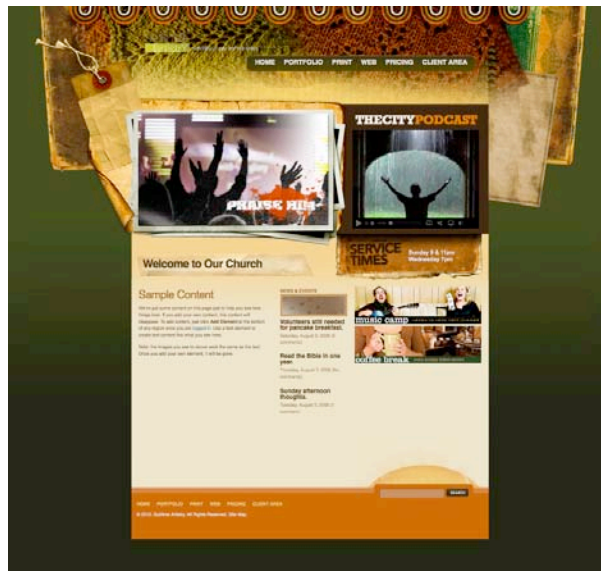

For Insta-Site examples, below are a few screen captures of “side-by-side” comparisons of the original pre-existing template on the left, and our customizations of that template for a client on the right. To view the license agreement for our Insta-Sites, visit <http://designs.publishpath.com>.
